To whom it may concern:

I have xm radio and find the service invalable as a truck driver.

Driving in different cities across this country, by using the instant road reports I can find when the best time and the best way for me to get into and out of these cities. also the weather is invable to me because the am/fn stations only give local weather but when you travel through diferent states I know what type of weather to expect and if bad weather is coming maybe change my route to go around the weather. After having xm radio for over a year I find it hard to listen to regular radio when at home.

Xm radio in invable to me as a truck driver. I concered it a tool that I use to make my job safer and easier.

Thank you
